DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Students,

It gives me immense joy to greet each one of you through the pages of our college magazine, "Lumora"—a name that beautifully signifies light. And indeed, this institution has always been a beacon, guiding young minds toward knowledge, compassion, and excellence.

We believe that education is not merely about degrees or dispensing medicines. It is about molding individuals who carry values in every capsule of their character. Our core values—Hospitality, Quality, Respect, Responsibility, and Spirituality—are not just words on a wall; they are the soul of our institution.

Hospitality means treating every patient, every colleague, and every community with warmth and dignity because healing begins with kindness.

Quality is non-negotiable. In your formulations, your ethics, and your service, let excellence be your signature.

Respect must be shown to life, to science, and to the diversity of people you will serve. A good pharmacist respects both the power of a drug and the fragility of a human being.

Responsibility rests on your shoulders to society, to the environment, and to the trust placed in you by those who seek health and hope.

Spirituality is the quiet anchor. It may not be loud, but it keeps you rooted in purpose, humility, and the understanding that every life has sacred worth.

Lumora is more than a collection of articles and artwork; it is a reflection of who we are and who we aspire to become. As you turn these pages, see the creativity, intellect, and heart of our students and know that the world outside awaits such light.

Carry our values wherever you go. Practice them not because you have to, but because you believe in them. That is how you will transform pharmacy into a ministry of healing.

With warm regards and every blessing,

Br. Baiju Valuparampil OH
Director
